

RULES OF THE SERIES

1. Participants in the series must complete the respective entry forms for each race in which they wish to compete. Race entries that prove unreadable or are missing vital information (e.g., age or gender) shall be considered void for the purposes of the series.
2. Individuals competing in the series must be registered as a current USA Track & Field Mid-Atlantic member before their performances will be scored. Membership registration/renewal online at usatf.org.
3. Individuals who register through another association shall not be eligible for series scoring until their membership transfer request has been received by the Mid-Atlantic membership chair.
4. Each of the races in the series retain the right to manage its entries, to determine whether to offer prize money and to operate its own award ceremony. The off-road series will function "after the fact" by using the official race results to determine individual and team standings for each event and the series.
5. The series also offers Mid-Atlantic clubs a team challenge independent of the individual competition. See the Off-Road Series Club Challenge Rules or contact the series coordinator for details.

USA TRACK & FIELD Mid-Atlantic

23rd ANNUAL OFF-ROAD RUNNING SERIES

The Off-Road Series has been created to offer USA Track & Field Mid-Atlantic members a competitive alternative to road racing. The series seeks to introduce runners to different off-road races, i.e. trail running and XC. Our emphasis is on competition among club teams, but unattached USATF-MA members are welcome to participate.
